

Example of “Predicted Fracture Path” Screen Print From ADUM

This screen print shows an example of IAPG’s “Predicted Fracture Path” analysis software package. This package can be used to view multiple possible fracture paths in a scanned file. The package illustrates both a cross sectional view of the path as well as a plan view. The horizontal lines used to contain the PFP can be moved to the preferences of the operator.

